29 Apr. 1837. Ant. Ab. Returned from a walk with Karenbalg & Kahnis.
 We are just at the commencement of the summer, I began the 27th. This is the time of anxiety about the numbers. When I entered N.W. last Thursday, about 40 were present & about 14 had their names taken down, this circumstance bid fair for about 100, last sem. the proportion was about the same, in the Synagogue I expected rationally about 60 or 70. Several other things had happened to raise my expectations, from many quarters I received notice about my book being well received, from Gua today, from Kolshin thro' Petersen, from Bauer in Prin, from old Bunde, from Scheele, from Ullman, Ambricht. Mathias came with the commission from the ministers. I had dined with the pro. of Ich., received attention from Wille, Madai etc I have been in Prin two weeks ago. My conversation with the prince was excellent with respect to his principles, but it appeared to me that he had ausgesprochen himself towards me so that nothing remained for a second consultation.
Schulze conversed most friendly & confidentially about my translocation to Prin, kissed me in parting, but he is a filon. In general my relations to many people has received a more friendly aspect. Such people like Twesky, Kohim, Nicol, Draesem who in the year 1830 would have shunned me, seem to consider me as one of their own party.

& what is most delightful I can say that I am candid in every respect, my nature is resistless.

1 May 37 Monday the lectures have begun their regular course, last week. I depended upon that many more ~~would~~ ^{would} announce themselves, but when I was kept waiting last ^{of evening} ~~night~~ from 4-5 but had none coming except those whom I knew, Thud perceived 40 & 60 at Geo. & M. & had 26 which grew 31 & this was all & in Dogn. 22. I tinkered with a cramped hand & there were in N.1. half of the bench near the window empty & two benches behind. This is the smallest number I ever had before in Speyer.
I must now expect the same in Dogn. - Boet told me the father the student who was worried by an other one not to deliver the lecture but to burn it. This reminded me of old times & they are returning indeed. Except some three from Götting there is not a single individual whom I do not know through whom he was introduced some & not one either from Naumb. or Zeitz or Eisenach - all these go now to W. again. That is most painful. - After I had delivered the first lesson there was Missionsschule. There I found myself once more as in former times comforted & abated & spoke after Bergers letters were read on the question why the Lord conducts his people crooked ways.

Tuesday 5 May 37. Yesterday as on Monday, was obliged to go to Luppatic on account of the Donlist, had been there 2 weeks ago with Freid Birge, Nichtman, Schley, very happy company, they seemed to love me & to have something christian yet sprightly, yesterday with Thomas Hanke, the two Kirchner, they were sprightly too but not christian, they had nothing mystic in their manner of feeling. My affection of
