went to the Fort, happened to meet in the way a small company of the natives from Porto Novo, and fell in to a discourse with them, which went chiefly upon the unity of God, and that there could be only one true way to serve him. They seemed to be much pleased, and were invited to a further conversation.

14. The Malabar Sermon had hitherto been in the hall of the house, but upon deliberation we resolved to have it for the future in the malabar School, and begun so to day. The main reason is, that we hope by this means to bring the natives to hear our Sermon, as they will sooner come to the malabar School than to our dwellinghouse.

22. On an invitation G. went over to the Fort side in the evening to christen the son of a Gentleman.

In our Sermons and instructions we have continued upon the Texts and Doctrines begun last month.

This month we begun to have a malabar Sermon every Sunday, and resolved, that G. should take care of the malabarian and R. of the Portuguese business, till R. should be advanced so much in the language that we can do it by turns.

John Ernest Guister.
